A Home for Dragons

Once upon a time two dragons
met on Christmas Island.

They decided to look for a home together.

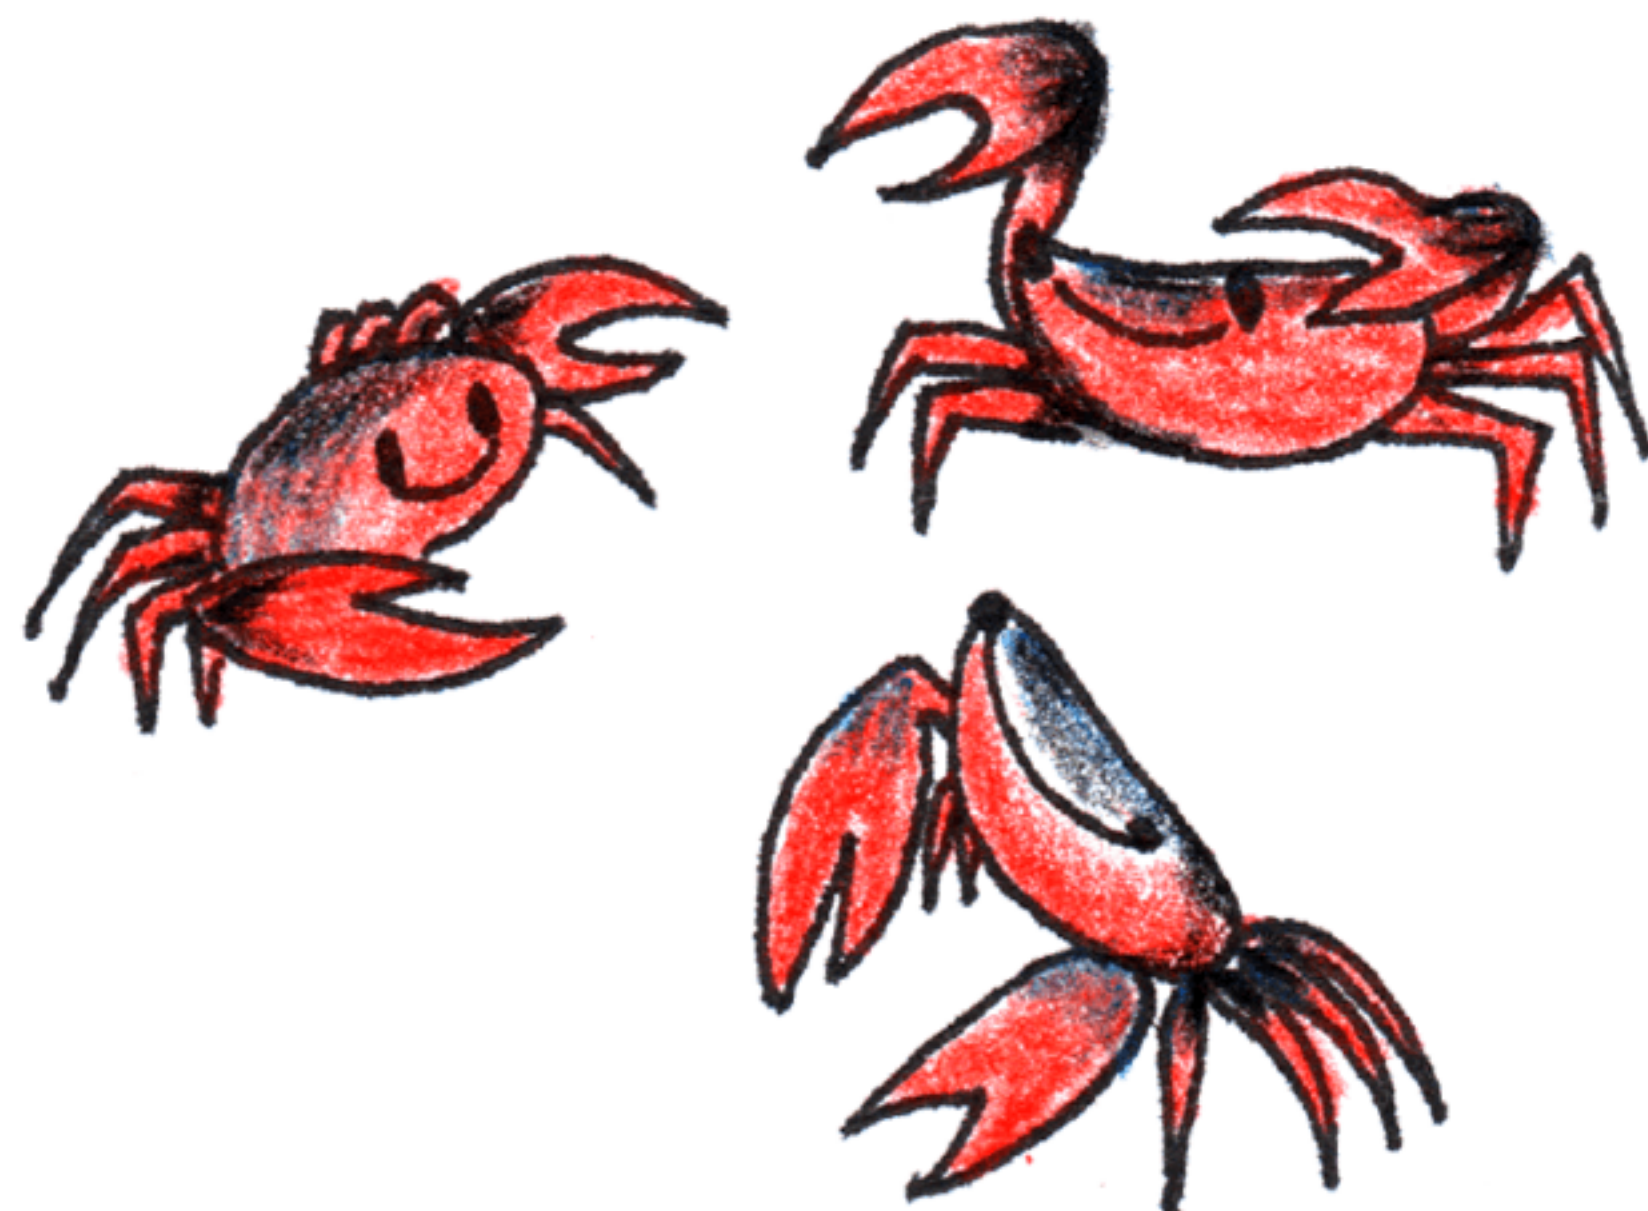

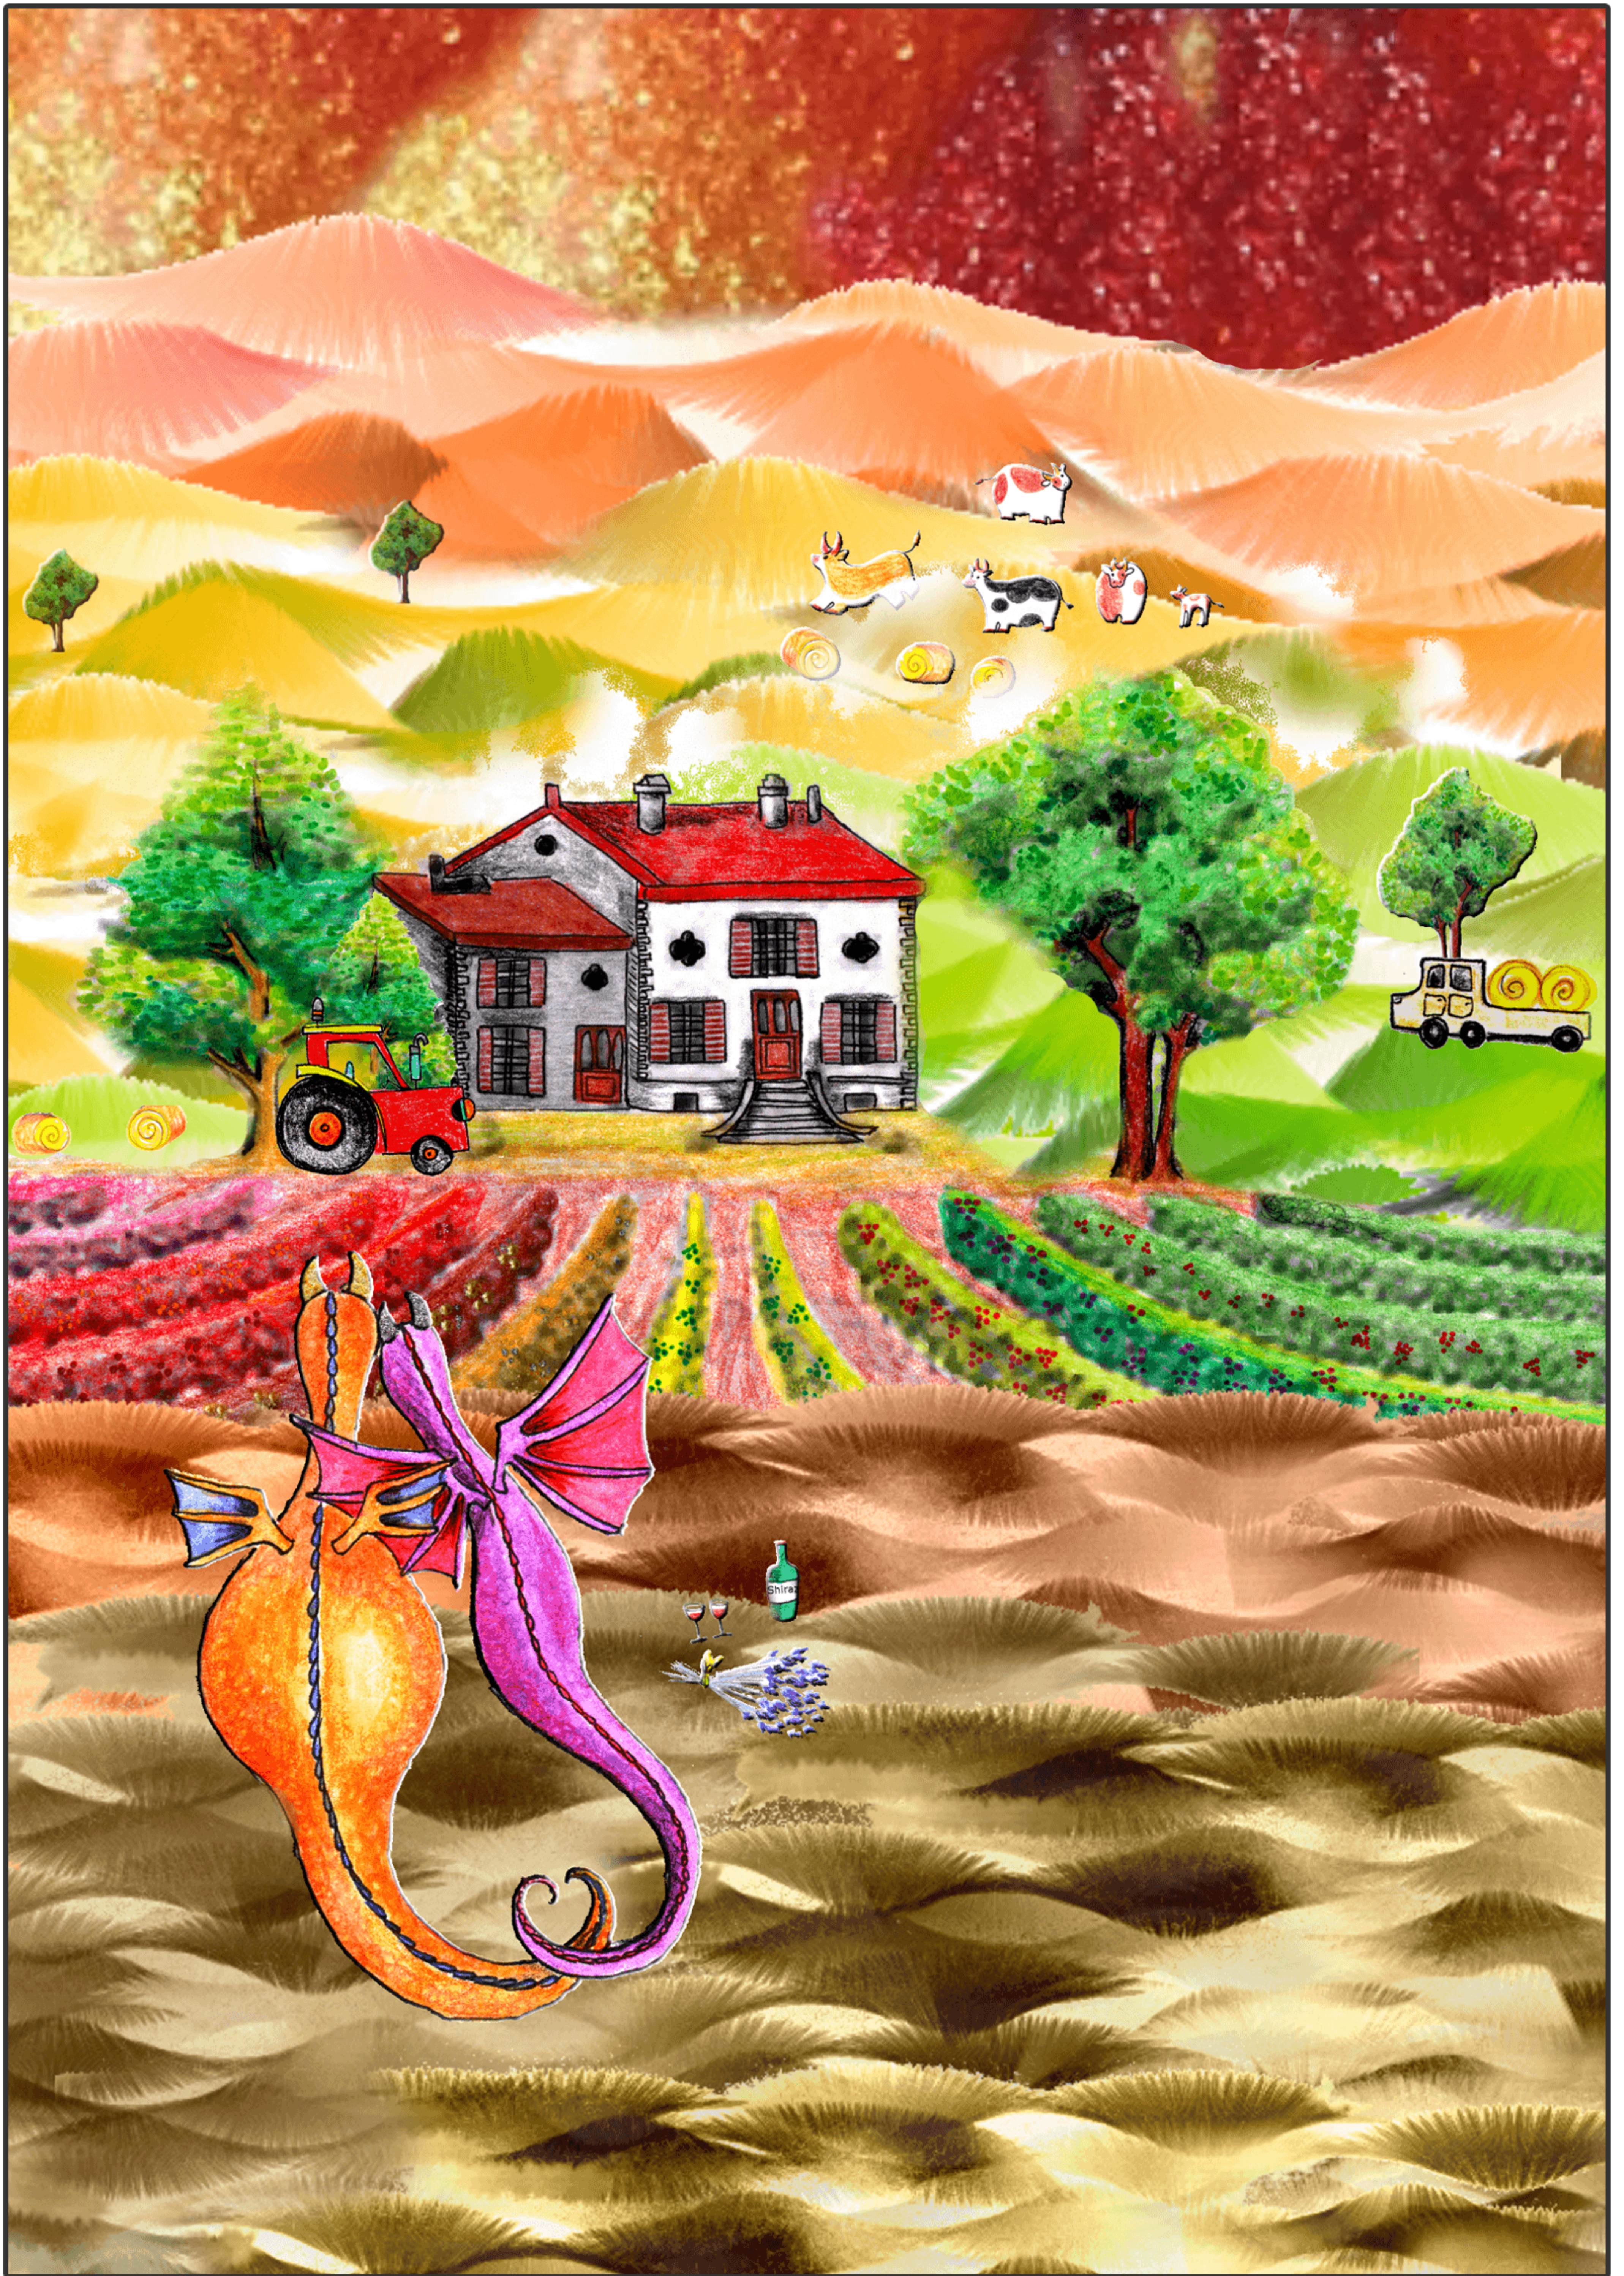

They thought the island was really nice,
especially the red crabs.

But it was not the right place.

So they went to a small farm at Nannup,
which was very nice, especially the wine.

But it was not the right place either.

Then they went to a beautiful old house
in Inglewood which was also very nice,
especially the rose garden out the front.

But it was still not the right place.

Next they found a beautiful apartment in East Perth which was nearly perfect, especially the river close by.

But their family was growing with new grandchildren and great grandchildren.

So they found a MUCH bigger house,
still in East Perth.

And they loved it!

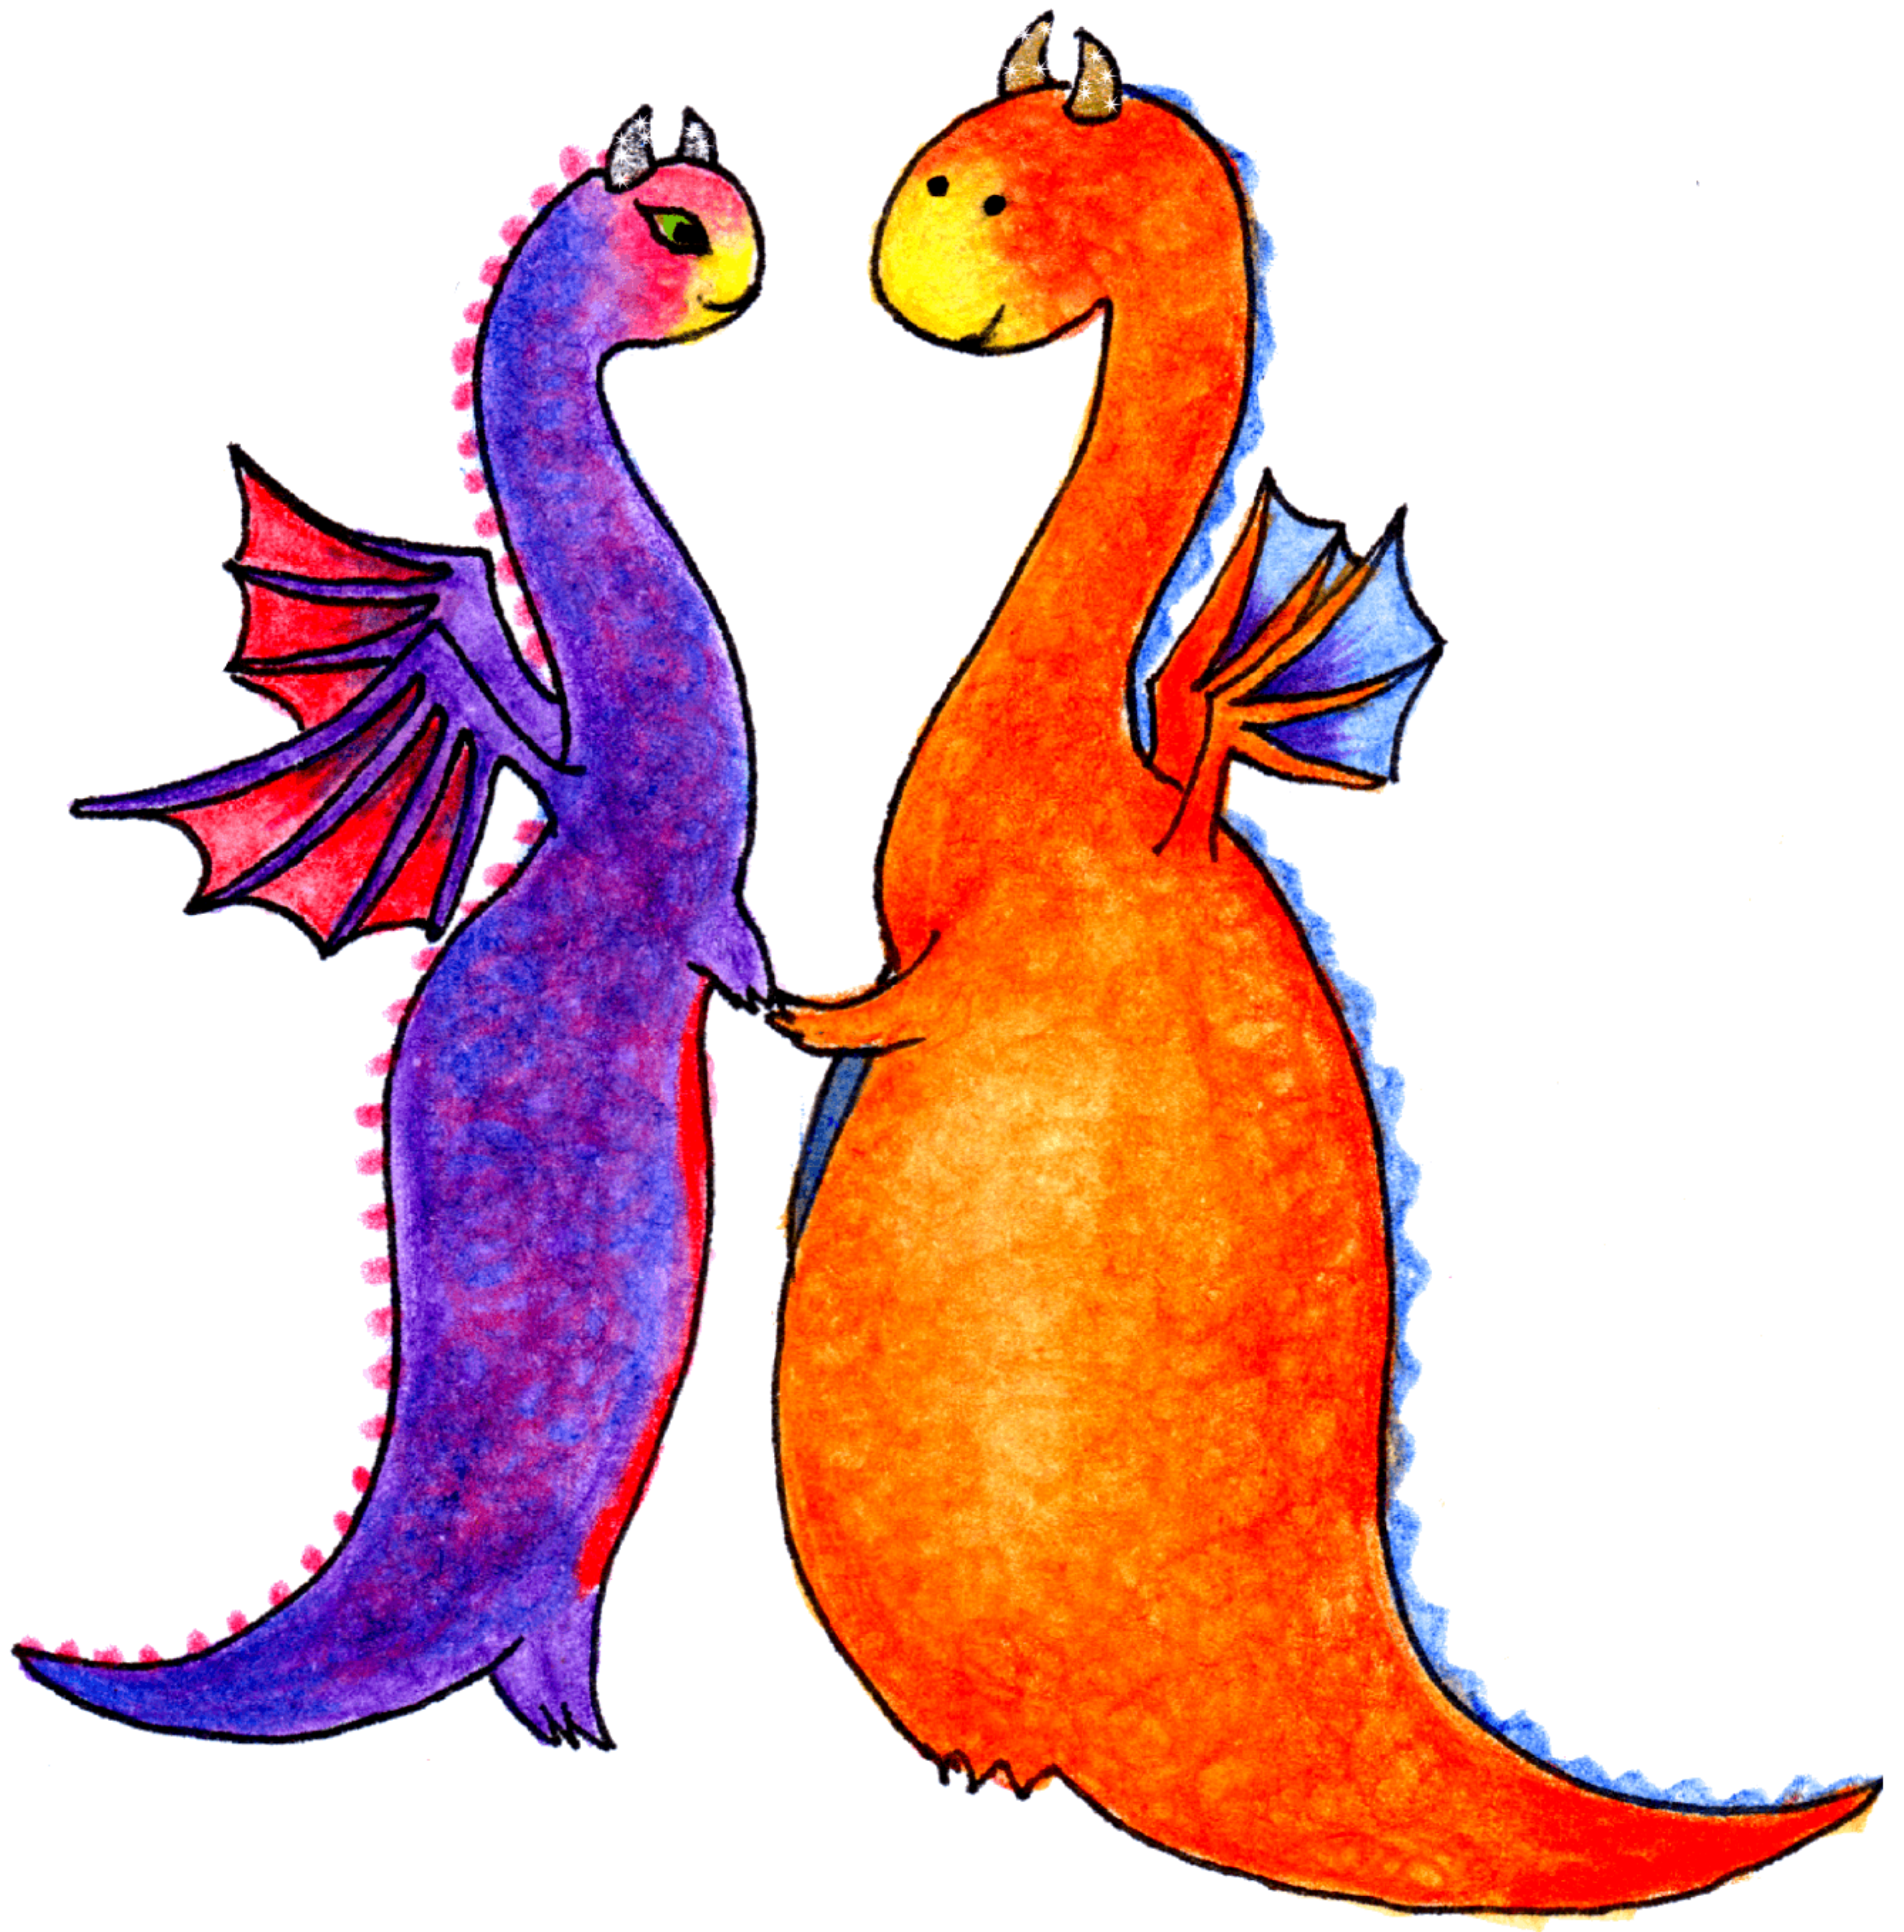

But
after a while
they really missed
another special place so
they searched and searched in Bali
until they found a sad, neglected villa,
also near a river,
that they scrubbed and scrubbed
until it became their beautiful
Villa Naga Bahagia.

And now the dragons
can live happily ever after
in their East Perth house and also in Villa Naga Bahagia in Bali.
